The Bakers have a delightful little house on a delightful little street in a delightful little neighborhood. Behind the house is a brick patio. The Bakers don't use the patio much at all. It's full of weeds.
BUT under the patio there is all sorts of action.

The reviews are in for Flight School!

Ant & Driver boasts *“Kinscherf/Brogaard?
Watch out Parker and Stone!”*

Ant Illustrated lauds “Sequels generally disappoint, but not Flight School!”

The Atlantic proclaims “Ingenious! Completed in the first sitting!”

The second in The Bakers’ Patio series, the Prince is given a responsibility equal to his position in the Colony, only to disappoint his mother, the Queen.

After 30 years as an IT Consultant, Kinscherf, with encouragement from his family, leveraged his method of play with his grandchildren to create something for all to enjoy. Brogaard’s love for creating art for children, plus her versatility created a perfect match for Kinscherf.
